"Silence in a jail always makes me suspicious," said Brennan. "Til warrant there's something wrong in there. I feel it."

Then he walked to one of the cells in the holdover to satisfy himself that Wood was safe. The prisoner was reading a paper. Brennan then went back to where Deems was standing.
"By Jove! You make me suspicious too, Brennan," he said, "I'm going to get my lamp and make the rounds."

George Susanka, 8 years old, of 1410 Dillon street, has been missing since Thursday. Between 5 and 6 o'clock that evening he and his brother, aged 10 years, were in Latayette Park playing tag. Cleveland's Shrewd Move.

Cleveland's Shrewd Move.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—There are indications that President Cleveland made a shrewd political move in transferring Attorney-General Oiney to the State Department. In the first place, it has quieted for the time being a rising storm of criticalism against the Attorney-General for his fallure to enforce the provisions of the antitust law against great monopolies. In the second place it has enabled the President to inaugurate whatever charge of policy he may see fit in the conduct of foreign affairs without laying himself open to the charge of a change of front.

But the greatest effect of the transfer will not develop fully until after the meeting of the Fifty-fourth Congress. It will be found then that the strong personal friendship which exists between the Secretary of State and Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Chandler of New Hampshire will quiet two of the most formidable antagonists on the Republican side of the chamber to the foreign policy of the administration as it has been conducted during the past two years.

Now they are kicking at the methods of collection employed by their creditor. The quarterly dues are $5, and few of the delinquents will make haste to part with that sum since the club has virtually ceased to be, and they cannot see what will become of the money, unless it goes into the pockets of the club's creditors. If suit is brought for each $5$ due, the dockets of the Justices of the Peace will grow rapidly, and the fee receipts of these tribunals, as reported to the city, will show a mushroom growth.

after a chase of twenty miles, he captured a post-office robber giving the name of James E. Clark, and escorted him to jail at Springfield, Mo., notwithstanding one of his arms was made practically useless by a pistol wound near the elbow.

The post-office at Nichols was entered Sunday evening while Wilkerson and his family were attending church. Thirty letters and $14.65 in money order funds and stamps were secured; also some valuable papers belonging to the post-master. When he returned from church He found the hickory box which served as a safe lying in the yard open, and the contents missing. With the aid of a lantern he plainly saw the imprints of a horse's hoof in the soft mud. The tracks led in the direction of the railroad. Owing to the darkness the search was postponed until Monday. His neighbors agreed to assist him, going in different directions. Wilkerson took the road parallel with the railroad track. A farmer coming from the opposite direction had seen a man on horseback, going toward Springfield. Wilkerson whipped up his horse and twenty miles out of town cornered the robber in a field. He asked him to give himself up, but instead the burglar pulled his gun and fred five times in rapid succession. One of the builets took effect in Wilkerson's arm, inflicting a painful wound. Wilkerson returned the fire, but the robber had dropped off the back of his horse. Wilkerson conced in upon him and when he saw the game was up the robber gave in.

The postmaster did not have handcuffs, but his saddle-starp served the purpose, and he securely bound his man. He was them nearer to Springfield than Nichols, and he decided to take the prisoner there. Before starting on the trip he induced the prisoner to return the Government's property. He found the letters a few miles back behind some shrubbery. The envelopes had been torn open and the contents scattered about. All this Wilkerson pived in his saddle-bag. He had some trouble securing the money, but said he recovered at the point of his revolver.

At Springfield

Wilkerson telegraphed Post-office Inspector Johnson Wednesday that he had patched up the torn letters and resealed the envelopes and had again opened up for business. Mr. Johnson's chief clerk says this is the first case where a postmaster "worked up" his own case.

Mrs. Adele Dowvall is dying at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Hofel, 5724 Nebraska avenue. A weird story of the cause of her suffering is told by Oscar Hofel, her brother, who lives at the same number. He alleges that the woman is the victim of Prosecuting Attorney Johnson, Wednesday, he gave as authority for his allegation, Dr. Buechler, whose office is at Osage street and Oregon avenue, and Hofel called upon Prosecutor Johnson to ascertain what steps could be taken to bring his sister's supposed poisoner to juscifice. He stated that two years ago she was married to Mitchell Dowvall, a olgar maker. Shortly after the marriage they established themselves at 10½ Arsenal street, where Dowvall commenced the manufacture of cigars. Two weeks after her marriage Mrs. Dowvall was taken sick and has been sick ever since, according to Hofel's story. Some months later a Dr. Wirth of Washington, Mo., furnished Dowvall money to start a cigar factory at that place and he and his wife went there to live. Mrs. Dowvall still continued in ill health, periodically

She returned to St. Louis Dec. 9 last, and since then, according to Hofel, she has been sinking rapidly.

Prosecutor Johnson instructed the man to bring some corroborative statement from Dr. Buechler, when he would look into the matter.

"My sister is convinced that she has been poisoned," said Hofel to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "She says that shortly after her marriage a dish of ice cream she ate tasted most peculiarly and that afterwards she was made ill from it."

dyside, Mo., located on the Frisco road, ten miles from the city, at 2 o'clock. Tuesday night. The whole place was astir in a moment.

Deputy Constable Jim Murphy succeeded in stopping the horse, but the man who was running behind eluded him and continued down the road, pursued by Murphy and a number of the residents of the place.

The driver of the vehicle was W. S. Fleming, the St. Louis druggist, who lives at Webster Groves. He said he was returning to Webster, two miles from Shadyside, when the unknown man dodged out from a corn field and began yelling like a madman. He cried "Don't shoot!" and began chasing after Fleming's rig.

At Webster the unknown was cornered and captured. He turned out to be a raving maniac. First he acted as if he had the "jim-jams," and spoke of large bunches of snakes that filled his mental horizon; then he got back to his old tack and said some one was trying to shoot him. Constable John Phellson took the prisoner in charge, and, assisted by the mob, escorted him to the residence of John Frehn, Justice of the Peace, where a warrant charging disturbing the peace was asked for. Prehn could not see how the man had maliciously disturbed the peace and refused to lock him up. Then the citizens retreated to the public road and held council. One thing was certain, the prisoner was a dangerous man to be romping around. They could not have him arrested, so they decided to take the law in their own hands. An empty freight car served the purpose. The insane man was hoisted in the car and the door securely fastened. R. A. Allen, the baker, furnished him with a light lunch of bread and milk, and placing a guard on the car a majority of the people retired.

Wednesday morning the prisoner cooled down somewhat. He gave his name as George Souline; said he came here recently from Germany, but would not tell where he lived. It was mutually agreed among the county residents, however, that Webster was no place for him, so he was released from the car and placed on a moving train for St. Louis with ins

SUNDAY SHAVING LAW.

The Attorney for the German Barbers' Union Says It Will Not Stick.

Members of the German Barbers' Union are wondering where "they are at." This zation was one of the most energetic of the agitators for a Sunday closing law, specially applicable to barber shops, and of the agitators for a Sunday closing law, especially applicable to barber shops, and the enactment which will be in force next Sunday was largely the result of its efforts. Every legitimate means known in furthering legislation was resorted to, but it finally became evident that mere argument was availing nothing, and then an assessment was made upon members.

An amount of from 1800 to $1,000 was raised and this was used where it would do must good, resulting in the passage of the law.

Everything now indicates that the law will not hold and that the expenditure was worse than useless. That is why the members are anxious. Secretary Casper J. Wilhelm the other day consulted an attorney with a view to assisting in the prosecution of violators of the law. This lawyer informed them that the law was not worth the paper it is printed upon.

"In the first place," said the lawyer, "it says that the business of barbering shall not be conducted on Sunday. No one knows what is meant by the business of barbering. It has never yet been legally defined. Moreover, the law is class legislation. Besides, it is entirely unnecessary. Barber shops could just its well have been prosecuted under the old Sunday law."

The Journeyman Barbers' Union has employed Lawyers James L. Hopkins and Gus Stern to look after their interests in the prosecution. Mr. Hopkins states that he will depend upon the argument that the new law is in line with the old one to secure its enforcement. He himself admits that it will be very difficult to make a case.

The purchase of 14.18 acres of land fronting on Vista avenue for $50,000, as exclusively reported in the Post-Dispatch some time ago, was officially recorded Tuesday evening. The property was originally owned by Wm. Hammel. Mr. Hammel transferred it to Wm. M. Horton, the well-known real estate agent, who in turn transferred it to the Lindell Railway Co.

President Whitaker of the Lindell Railway said that a portion of the lands would be improved, while the portion lying near Grand avenue would be held merely as an investment.

No Money Appropriated for Ex-penses of the Extra Session.

NEW CALL MAY BE ISSUED.

But the Omission in the Proclamation Will Likely Cost the State $15,000.

SPRINGFIELD, IIL, June 19.-Member f the Legislature have already begun to eturn to Springfield for the extra session return to Springfield for the extra session called by Gov, Altgeld, but a serious contingency has arisen. It appears that the Governor omitted from the list of subjects for consideration any mention of an appropriation to pay the expenses of an extra session. As the matter now stands neither the House nor Senate can employ any clerks, doorkeepers, policemen, junitors or other essential attaches. Representative Berry said to-day that he could see no way out of the muddle except for Gov. Altgeld to prorogue the General Assembly and issue a new call. To do this may cost the State $15.00. Every member is entitled to mileage. This will average about $25 per member and make a total of over $5.00. Then each member is allowed $50 a session for stationery, making a total of over $10,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 19.—In his proclamation convening the Illinois Legislature in extra session, Gov. Altgeld states the reasons impelling him to issue it.

The proclamation in full is as follows:
To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives, constituting the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, and to all other persons whom it may concern:
GENTLEMEN-Aside from the $2,000,000 which the law requires to be levied and collected for school purposes, the General Assembly has made appropriations for various purposes to be expended during the next two fiscal years, amounting to about $7,600,000. The income from the Illinois Central Railway and from various State offices and other sources during those two years will be about $1,600,000, thus leaving about $6,000,000 to be raised by taxation. Yet in spite of this face the two years, thus forceing a shortage of $1,000,000 onto the State Treasury, and doing so by legislation. I cannot understand this method of financiering, and I submit that the good name and credit of this great and wealthy State should not be thus trified with, neither for partisan nor for any other purpose.

Question of Allowing an Appeal in the Oregon Short Line Case.

Oregon Short Line Case.

PORTLAND, Ore., June is.—The status of the Oregon Short Line & Utah Northern receivership case in the United States Circuit Court here is as follows: The Ames estate and the Oregon Short Line & Utah Northern Railway Co., through their attorney, Zera Snow, last Friday filed a motion for an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals from so much of Judge Gilbert's order of June 3, appointing John M. Egan receiver, as relates to the issuance of receiver's certificates. The order allowing the appeal was passed by District Judge Bellinger, sitting in the Circuit Court, and citations were issued and served upon the resident solicitors for the American Loan and Trust Co. Judge Bellinger, after he had made the order allowing an appeal, remembered that he had promised the American Loan and Trust Co. a hearing on the question of appeal, and accordingly he revoked the order allowing the appeal. He stated to attorneys on beth sides that they would be given a hearing at some future time. The question of allowing the appeal therefore remains undecided.

B. Gibbons Got $45,000 From Him. NEW YORK, June 19.—A motion was made before Judge Patterson in the Supreme Court Chambers here for an injunction to restrain Richard B. Gibbons from disposing of certain securities alleged to belong to Alexander C. Chapin, a relative of Chester W. Chapin, President of the New Haven Steamboat Co. The motion is but one phase of an action brought by Chapin, who is 28 years old, to recover 345,000 out of which he claims to have been defrauded by Mr. Gibbons. The money, it was alleged, was secured from Chapin while he was under the influence of Ilquor and was lost in high wagers on horse-races and gun shoots. A partnership in a concern to deal in watches was also one of the schemes evolved by Gibbons to get Chapin's money, it is averred.

Gibbons admits that he was in the pool-selling business, but denies that Chapin was given drink. He declares that all the securities he obtained from Chapin he purchased from him. Judge Patterson reserved his decision on the motion. NEW YORK, June 19.-A motion was

More than a majority of the Chairmen of Democratic committees in the 114 counties in the State have now expressed themselves through their county committees for a convention. The majority must rule and the convention will now be held.

Mr. Farris will present this evidence of the expressed wish of the party in a majority of counties of the State, and it is hardly probable that the State Committee can or will ignore this demand of the party.

The only alternative in that event would vention by the county chairmen under the direction and instructions of the people.

FOR UNITY OF ACTION.

Manufacturers Discuss Methods of Furthering Common Interests.

One hundred of the leading manufacturers of St. Louis sat down to lunch last evening the Mercantile Cfub. They were gathered together as representatives of St. Louis manufacturing industries and mem-bers of the St. Louis Manufacturers' Asinauguration of a series of quarterly lunch sociation. The meeting was the successful inauguration of a series of quarterly luncheons at which social intercourse is followed by profitable discussion of topics of mutual interest.

The addresses last evening, most of them thoroughly impromptu, were quite significant of a new factor in the city's commercial development. The keynote of every speech was that the time had come to subordinate the individual interest to the common good. Sometimes it came as the mere shadow of a suggestion, again it was spoken out fearlessly. The consciousness that everyone had been working narrowly for his own interests and according to his individual judgment and thereby retarded the progress that would have come through unity of endeavor, seems to be pretty strongly impressed on the St. Louis manufacturers, and they intend shaking off every resemblance of narrowness or provincialism.

This was one important feature and there was another. There were present at the banquet Mr. Edward J. Howell of London, England, a gentleman whose life has been devoted to studying comparative trade statistics, and Major Chas. E. Pearce of St. Louis, who has lately returned from a business inspection trip through the Orient. Both gentlemen somewhat startled their auditors by their statement regarding coming opposition from the Orient. After the discussion of an elegant repast President L. D. Kingsland opened the intellectual portion of the feast with a paper on the objects of the assciation. He spoke as follows:

Chestnut Street Station. The charge against them was disturbing the peace.

All of the prisoners were women. They were holding a meeting in front of the hotel when the arrest was made. Officers Stack and Labor called the wagon and had them carted to the station on complaint of Manager Harry Weaver. They were released at the station by Sergt. Worcester and immediately repaired to the Laclede Hotel, where they held another meeting. The army came from the training school on Franklin avenue, under the leadership of Lieut. Rosea Rube and was made up of Cadets Myrtle Meek, Lillie Weber, Mame Gisleman, Rosa Pistorius, Anna Anderson, Hilda Anderson, Hattle Veninga and Aude Lowry. They had their usual bass drum and tambourine and sang in front of the hotel.

Lieut. Rube carried a permit from Acting dered to move on by Officer Stack. Cadet Meek complained that the officer grabbed her by the arm and hurt her and also swore at her. The young women sang a song in the patrol wagon as it was hurriedly drawn to the station.

Acting Mayor Nagle was asked by a Post-Dispatch reporter if the officer had anyright to ignore the Mayor's permit in making the arrest. He said: "Yes; a permit is not worth the paper it is written on. The executive has no right under the law to issue a permit which suspends the functions of any ordinance or officer. These permits are virtually pardons issued in advance for violating the ordinances and the practice of issuing them should be stopped. I introduced a resolution at last night's meeting of the Council to have it stopped and it carried by unanimous vote.

"Now, as for the case of the Salvationists, there is but one thing to say. They have a right to hold their meetings in the streets. This does not permit them to disturb anybody, and if Mr. Weaver makes that complaint, it is for the Police Department to act and the courts to decide the matter."

HIS MORAL SUPPORT.

Gladstone Withdraws It From Rosebery Administration.

LONDON, June 19.—It is announced that Gladstone has withdrawn from his pairing agreement with Villiers, which has been operative since his retirement, because he wishes to be regarded as having an open mind on the Welsh Church disestablishment mind on the Welsh Church disestablishment bill.

In an editorial the Times says: "Blow upon blow has fallen on the Government recently, but none is comparable to this, which means the withdrawal of Mr. Gladstone's moral support from Lord Rosebery's administration. The immediate prestige of his name has enabled the Government to weather some dangerous storms, and it is the very foundation of the political fabric of the present Government. It is hardly possible to escape the conclusion that he extends his disapproval to their general policy. It is believed that he wanted a more drastic dealing with the Armenian question."

A BLUNDERING POLICENAN.

ese women were engaged in singing praying and preaching on the street, as they had a right to do. Not only were they not violating any law, but they had cial permit from the Acting Mayor munity.

But because their legal and well-meaning proceedings were displeasing to the manager of the Planters' Hotel. Officer Stack roughly arrested the women, placed them in a patrol wagon and drove them to the station, exposed to public shame like common thieves or prostitutes. The policeman did not act like a public officer enforcing the law and observing the rights of all, but like a private employe of the hotel subject to the bidding of its manager.

The outrage was an offense against justice and decency which requires severe rebuke. Law-abiding citizens must be protected from such blunderers.

THE MONEY QUESTION

NO. IX.-SILVER IS HONEST. In demanding the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 we are not asking for a strange or new thing. We are simply asking for the restoration of an old right. The mints were open to the free coinage of silver from the beginning of the Government down to 1873. It was the closing of them against it that was new, strange

Neither do the people demand a new and unjust ratio. They demand the longestablished ratio of 16 to 1. The demand, therefore, is strictly within the limits of law, justice, reason and public policy.

It is said that to reopen the mints to the free coinage of silver would enable the people to pay the national debt, the municipal debis, the railroad bonded debts and other public and quasi-public funded debts in silver dollars worth only 50 cents on the dollar, and that this would be dishonest.

This brings us face to face with the question of honesty, and we boldly assert that silver payment of these vast debts is the only honest way of meeting them, and that to compel the payment of them in the one of our two money metals that has ever been made artificially dearer is oppressive, unjust and dishonest.

The present silver dollar is not "worth cents. It was worth 100 cents when it was established nearly a hundred years ago, and it contains as much silver now

This silver dollar was made the unit and measure of value at the beginning of the Government and it was both revo-lutionary and unjust to set it aside for a gold standard of higher value, which increased all debts by reducing the value of all products of labor.

All debts, contracts and obligations are expressed in "dollars." All debts, contracts and obligations are dischargeable in dollars—these same filver dollars and payment in them fulfills all the conditions of commercial honor.

It is not dishonest in the people to demand the right of paying their vast public bonded indebtedness in the cheap-er of the two lawful money metals. That has always been the option of debtors The dishonesty really attaches to the creditor class, who double the value of their claims on the people by stopping the coinage of silver, thus reducing the supply of redemption money one-half.

The case is precisely as if a farme should borrow $1,000 from a money lender to pay for his farm, with the privilege of paying in wheat and corn—wheat at $1 a bushel and corn at 50 cents. The debt has ten years to run, and the interest is 8 per cent-$80 a year. At first the farmer pays in wheat because it is cheaper; but after a while corn becomes the cheaper, and he desires to avail himself of his privilege and pay in it. But the creditor that as he began to pay in wheat, when it was the cheaper, he shall continue to pay in wheat after it has become the dearer. Is not this both dishonest and

THE CITY CONTROLS THE STREETS

It is not necessary to determine the full effect of the decision of the State Supreme Court in the Laclede Gastight Co. in order to find in the court's conclusion substantial victory for the city. Not only is the company's special claim o the right to lay a conduit in the street without the consent of the municipal auhorities denied, but several general principles of value are laid down for the interpretation of charter rights and municipal rights.

The complete control of the streets by the municipality is established and the principle suggested by the Post-Dispatch when the question first came up that a Legislature cannot grant away the police power of the State or deprive a succeeding Legislature of the right to legislate for the public welfare is affirmed.

The effect of the decision, therefore, is o give the municipal authorities complete entrol of the conduit question. The Laclede Gaslight Co.'s claim to unlimited rights is knocked out and it and all other corporations are subject to municipal

The Municipal Assembly can have the vires put under ground in any way it thinks best. If the city's interests are sacrificed or a corporate monopoly is established it will be because the corpora tions are stronger in the Municipal Asembly than the people of St. Louis.

AN UNPROPESSIONAL SPOOK.

The lack of consideration in the suit brought by Mrs. Montell against Mrs. Aber, an alleged spiritualistic medium of New York, amounts to positive cruelty.

Mrs. Montell sues for $150 for services and expenses of herself and daughter as spooks in Mrs. Aber's seances. Not only does Mrs. Montell aver that she and her daughter responded whenever Mrs. Aber called spirits from the vasty deep, but describes in detail the paraphernalis and mode of operating a sham spook factory. She tells exactly what she said and did to fool Mrs. Aber's followers to the top of their bent.

This conduct is decidedly unprofes sional. It tends to close up not merely the particular spook factory in which she was employed, but to destroy the whole spook industry. It impairs the confidence spook industry. It impairs the confidence of the firmest believer in the powers of the gifted persons who claim a monopoly of the means of communication with the spirit land and such complete control of ghosts that they come to earth only at the call of the favored medium after his or her palm has been crossed with silver.

Excuse me if I shout "O pshaw?"

had not been hard hit so many times we would be inclined to say that this suit is the hardest blow it has received.

But there is a genuinely pathetic side to the case. It is impossible not to feel pity for the duped viotims of Mrs. Aber and Mrs. Montell, whose profound religious feelings, and sacred affections have been played upon by unscrupulous treed.

hat Councilman Clarks he compensation paid by the Sothat Councilman Clark's bill to change the compensation paid by the Southern Electric Railway Co. from a fixed sum to a graduated percentage is a job in the interest of the railroads. In the calculation published yesterday only the fixed charge of $19,000 was compared with the proposed percentages; but it showed a loss on a generous estimate of receipts of $155,000 for the city. To this must be added the loss of $3,000 more per year provided in the franchise of the company, so that an additional loss of $129,000 will be suffered by the city in the forty-three years life of the company's franchise. Unless the Municipal Assembly is willing to make a free gift of about $285,000 to the Southern Electric Railway Co., the Clark bill will be defeated. If the percentage plan is preferred the perthe percentage plan is preferred the per-centages should be fixed on a just basis which will give the city all that is due it under the old plan and a fair com pensation for the new franchise asked.

The so-called "sound-money" Dem crats are gleefully claiming a victory in the coming Kentucky State Convention and declaring that they will pass a resolution indorsing Cleveland and Carlisle and their financial policy. These zealous new converts to the gold standard should remember that after the convention nes the election. With such a platform and candidates of like mind standing upon it, the Democrats will be beaten in Kentucky by 30,000 votes.

The censure of Hettle Green for no aiding her sick relatives will not do. It is comforting to hear that Secretary Olney's friends Lodge and Chandler will not antagonize his foreign policy. The present Administration has become so ent upon its Republican friends that it is no wonder that its Democratic adherents have been dropping off.

The gain of $1,000,000 in grain shipments for May is gratifying. The farmer saved the country in 1892 and he is helping it now. It was the money that came here for farm products in 1892 that deayed our hard times until 1893.

If it is true that both parties in Ohio will elect white metal Congressmen, the fact is encouraging. The silver element in all parties should work for the good of the country.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The stewards of the Sheepshead Bay meeting, Messrs. The decision of the stewards amounts to a Scotch verdict of "Not proven," and a dismissal of the case, as they find, after a careful review of Lazzarone's running, both at Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay, that there is no foundation for the charges made in various quarters that Lazzarone was not intended to win in his Gravesend races. The change of jockeys, it is declared, was fully explained by the owners and the trainer to the satisfaction of the stewards as merely a matter of preference.

CITY NEWS.

CAUGHT ON THE WING.

Antoine Measzola Arrested, and Robbery Proceeds Recovered.

Antoine Meazzola, a frail-looking young man of 18 years, was arrested on a Vandalia train at the Relay Depot by Detective tion that he was wanted in St. Louis for robbing Mrs. Myers, proprietress of the Olivette Hotel. Nineteenth and Olive streets, of the snug sum of $150. He was held till 11 a. m., when he was turned over to the St. Louis authorities, an officer having been sent for the prisoner.

When searched at the police station the sum of $130 was found on Antoine's person. He confessed to the robbery and said he had expended $30 for a new suit of clothing and a ticket to New York, where he expected to take a steamer for France, his father's home.

The boy's mother is dead. He has been in America eleven months, and was employed as a waiter at the Olivatte. His aunt, Mrs. Ezertini, resides at 3765 Lindell avenue. Antoine is a Frenchman by birth and does not speak English fluently. He retains his native pride to some degree, as just prior to his arrest he had invested 15 cents in a Relay Depot shine.

The Secretary was accompanied by Mrs. Lamont and their three children and two servants, all of New York, Quartermaster General Batchelder and George B. Davis, military secretary to Col. Lamont. They will leave the barracks at their pleasure this evening and depart at once over the Wabash for the East. Whether Col. Lamont will return for the interstate drill could not be learned.

and are enseonced in a cosy office in the center of the store. Ten stylish delivery wagons will deliver the orders sent in by the company's five gentlemanly solicitors, and Mr. Von der Ahe says he will not be undersold by any other concern in St. Louis. A pleasant feature of yesterday's opening was the presentation by Mr. Von der Ahe of a handsome gold medal with a diamond center to Prof. Wm. Weil, the bandmaster of Sportsman's Park, in commemoration of his faithful services. Mr. Von der Ahe, in presenting the medal, spoke with much feeling, and Prof. Well responded. All day "streams" of ladies came to this establishment, and four pretty girls distributed flowers and elegant gold and sliver pins as souvenirs of the occasion. Prof. Well's band discoursed popular music.

A large store of this character, conducted as this will be on liberal principles, will be a valuable addition to the North Grand avenue and West End familes.

CHICAGO, June 19.—In the arguments in the Whisky Trust case to-day Edwin Walker, the representative of the Morris and Greenhut interests, made his argument against the granting of the petition for the sale of the distilleries. He asserted that the scheme of the Reorganization Committee was simply to form a new trust under the charter of some other State, the Illinois Supreme Court having knocked out the old trust.

PRESIDENT TRACY'S ADDRESS

Glittering White Metal Badges a Con spicuous Adornment of Many Delegates.

CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—The eighth National convention of the League of Re-publicans Clubs convened in Music Hall tolay with 2,000 delegates in the Auditorium and the galleries filled with visitors. The hall was elaborately decorated, as is the arcade, where the banquet is given to-morrow night, the hotels and other places After prayer by Rev. S. L. Darsie, Secretary Humphrey read the call and addresses of and President D. D. Woodmansee of the Ohio League of Republican Clubs. Presi-dent Tracy then delivered the annual ad-dress as follows:

would be impossible for any one nation to adopt a system of currency not in accord with the other commercial nations of the yorld without threatened ruin and disaster to its commerce and plunging its trade into chaos. The people of this country want more money but only on one condition, and that is that it be sound and current the world over. There is no question which party will be entrusted with the solving of this problem. The record of the Republican party proves that it has always been in favor of increasing the currency in keeping with the demands of the country, but only on the basis that the purchasing and debipaying power of a dollar, whether of silver or gold, shall at all times be kept equal. The people will be satisfied to leave the solving of the currency question in the hands of the Republican party.

They know that in the future as in the past the interests of silver in all its relations to the people can safely be intrusted to the protecting care of that party. This entire question as to the future use of silver will probably be settled by the great commercial nations of the world within a year. Germany and France are seeking bimetallism and England is fast turning in that direction. What the people should do is to bring pressure to bear upon their representatives for the appointment of delegates to an international conference with power to act, and insist upon an agreement and obligation from the nations participating to maintain the ratio as there adopted. Rep league convention dent Tracy then delivered the annual ac-dress as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen—It is my duty and pleasure to now formally declare opened the eighth annual convention of the Republican National League.

As members of this organization, we gather here to-day to consider how, as in-telligent and patriotic American citisens, we can best serve our country and party.

This great gathering of young men from

Chairman Massitt of the State Central Committees was seen at the race track on Wednesday afternoon, and told of County Committees was seen at the race track on Wednesday afternoon, and told of County Committees and Propose to pay any attention to Mr. Farris or his communications. The proper farris or his communications are communications. The proper farris or his communications. The proper farris or his communications. The proper farris or his communications are communications and the farris or his communications. The proper farris or his communications are communications and the farris or his communication and the particular farrisms and the farrisms are also and a communication of the farrisms and the farrisms an convention of the party will have the heart, brain and conscience to take up all national questions and decide them wisely and justly. It is our work to elect, not select, candidates, and promote, not promulgate, platforms. Party platforms and party candidates must have the approval of the people, but to insure victory in the next campaign we must prepare to meet organization with organization. It is through the 16,000 clubs which form the Republican National League that this organization can best be carried on.

The League has no desire to control party machinery, or attempt in any way to interfere with any regular committee entrusted with campaign management. It seeks, however, through its clubs to make more popular to all citizens the opportunity to participate in political affairs, and assume the responsibility, the labor and the glory of political service. It appeals to the intelligence and patriotism of the American people, and through the establishment of a club in every town seeks to advance and promote Republican principles in every community and before every fireside in the land. Every American citizen should have strong political convictions, should attend all caucuses of his party, and be in the truest and best sense a politician. It is only through the united and intelligent effort of our best citizens that good government can be assured. We rejoice that the Republican narty, and that through that membership we have played a most important part in the history of the nineteenth century.

From the day the Republican party came forth a young David to do battle with the mighty Gollath of slavery, it has been the right arm of the Republic. All legislation which has met the needs and demands of the people has been proposed and enacted by the Republican party. During all these years the Democratic party has stood opposed to every measure that savored of advancement. During all these years the Democratic party of opposition; they have ever had any pickets thrown out on the line of advanced thought. It was

SILVER MEN CONFER.

The silver men had another conference to-day and decided to wait until after the appointment of the Committee on Resolutions before taking any action. If that committee is organized against free colnage they will insist on the consideration of their 16 to 1 resolution in the convention. Their giltering silver badges are the most brilliant paraphernalia in the hall or about the hotels and they are still confident that the party must concede their demands to hold the Western States.

Since the withdrawal of Secretary Humphrey the New York delegation promised the silver men the Secretaryship if the latter would not oppose Gen. McAlpin for President. The silver men united on J. F. Byrnes of Denver. The indications are that McAlpin and Byrnes will be elected and that the silver men men may not place the name of Col. Trumbo before the convention for President. E. J. Miller, Secretary of the Ohio League, has been mentioned for Secretary, but as D. D. Woodmansee withdrew as candidate for President at the request of the McKinley men, it is thought that Miller's name will not be presented. Thomas H. McGee of Logansport is a candidate for Secretary, but Indiana, like Ohio, Tennessee and other States with presidential possibilities for next year, is not asking for anything at this convention. The forenoon was taken up mostly with music and cheering the party leaders, the singing of the Cleveland Glee Club being a great feature.

MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY. Retrenchment and Reform Suggested by Bills to Increase Expense.

At the close of the last Municipal Asse bly the Council Committee on Retren bly the Council Committee on Retrenchment and Reform, after an exhaustive investigation, reported that there were a number of useless officials drawing salaries, and recommended many changes in the service. Several bills were introduced to remedy this state of affairs, but they died with the session. At Tuesday night's meeting of the Council the subject was revived by a resolution offered by Mr. Farris, setting forth that a number of bills were pending, aiming to increase salaries or to increase the forces in some departments, and that the questions presented were rather of the ability of the city to pay than of justice to officials, and providing that the Committee on Legislation be authorized to examine into the whole subject and report to the Council such bills as may be calculated to carry out its conclusions. The resolution was adopted without debate. meeting here to-day, has given out the following under his signature: "In my opinion this convention will, with regard to the money question, follow the lines laid out by the convention in Denver last year. The declaration at that time was clear, sharp and specific. It followed the line of the National platform of 1882, and favored the establishment of a bimetallic standard of money through an international agreement, looking to the enlarged use of silver. The resolutions as adopted at Denver proved highly satisfactory to the advocates of free silver at that time, and I am satisfied that they will be as well pleased with the action of this convention. I believe the great majority of the delegates in this convention will be positively opposed to any resolution declaring in favor of free silver. The delegates from Illinois will oppose any such action to a man. The convention will in no way anticipate the action of the regular National Convention to be held next year. We have been most careful in the past not to step over our prerogatives, and I am satisfied that the present convention will confine itself to outlining plans for carrying on the work for which this organisation was formed. We have all we can do if we perfect our organisation and put it in working condition for the campaign of 1896. Of course, national questions will be discussed, as is proper, but no action will be taken which will not be in accord with the conservative policy of the past conventions of this organisation."
